We are committed to excellence in all aspects of our activity; this includes ensuring the health & safety of everyone who comes into contact with our activities. The successful implementation of this policy requires total commitment from everyone throughout the organisation; we must all aim to improve our OH&S performance continuously through:

'staying safe' by always doing the right thing... even if no-one is looking!

We fully commit to:

- Providing safe, healthy working conditions for the prevention of work-related injury and ill health

- Continually improving our OH&S management system through the promotion of mental and physical health and wellbeing
- Consulting with, and securing the participation of our employees and employees' representatives through our OH&S activities

We will achieve our commitments by:

Enhancing employees', trainees' and apprentices' OH&S knowledge, skills and behaviours through effective information, training and supervision	Retaining a Health and Safety Manager and allocating suitable and sufficient resources to achieve the aims and objectives of our SHEF Action Plan	Engaging with our business stakeholders, employers and contractors to improve OH&S performance across the RSME and wider training and apprenticeship delivery

Responsibilities

All personnel, including staff, trainees, apprentices, visitors and contractors are required to comply with the Station Commander's OH&S Policy statement and applicable compliance obligations and campaigns.
